

"The Old Course"

After playing the links of Ballyunion for the first time, a golfer might think that the game of golf originated here. Located on the Shannon estuary, it is a true seaside links course, virtually treeless and a course of sharp contours throughout. There is a wild look to the place, the long grass covering the dunes that pitch and roll over the course which makes it most intimidating. The contours on the fairways and on the greens are what make Ballyunion a great defense. You must hit the required shot, either tee as a run up or with a curve to offset the angle... It is a course that will test your patience. It is not a course that favors one particular style of play, but one that simply rewards the good shot!
