"Refined shot making Required"

Wolf Run is as diverse as its scenery, yet tests every facet of the player's ability. With narrow fairways and firm, fast greens surrounded by dramatic and strategic bunkering, players quickly realize that all the shots are required to play Wolf Run. The par 3's require intense strategy and range from a short downhill shot of 132 yards to a small green that boards Eagle Creek to another that requires the player to carry his tee shot more than 230 yards to a green heavily surrounded by deep bunkers. Many of the par 4 holes demand long drives and carefully carved approaches to small targets. Holes 3-10 and 17 make up the par 5's and are as beautiful, yet as challenging as any in American golf. As a result Wolf Run is a thinking man's course where a player at the top of his game would be offered strategic and at times heroic options on every hole!
